WaterCAP web: www.watercap.eu

The screenshot shows the WaterCAP website homepage. At the top is a banner with the text "WaterCAP" and "Targeting the Existing and Future Directives and guidelines". Below this is a navigation menu with links: "The Project", "Tools and methods", "Workshops", "Contact", and "Partners". The main content area features a "WaterCAP" section with a description of the project's origins and goals. It mentions that WaterCAP builds on six InterReg projects: Aquarius, CLIWAT, CPA, C2C islands, DiPol, SAWA, and BaltCICA. It also states that the WaterCAP cluster (October 2011 - March 2013) has taken up the central issues of these projects by focusing on climate change and its effects on the hydrological cycle in the North Sea Region. The website highlights the "Final WaterCAP Workshop" held on 29 January, titled "Regional Solutions to Climate Change Adaption in Water Management". A sidebar on the right contains logos for various partner projects: CLIMATE PROOF AREAS, cradle to cradle, islands, diPol, AWA, AQUARIUS, and CLIWAT. At the bottom, there is a large graphic for "The Interreg IVB North Sea Region Programme" with the tagline "Investing in the future by working together for a sustainable and competitive region". Social media links for Facebook and LinkedIn are also present.

The screenshot shows the WaterCAP Facebook group page. The header includes the group name "WaterCAP" and navigation tabs: "Om", "Begivenheder", "Billeder", and "Filer". There are also icons for "Notifikationer" and a search icon. The main content area features a description of the group: "WaterCAP brings policy makers, science and practitioners together and finds new ways to adjust water management to a changed climate." It also mentions that historical hydrological patterns can no longer be solely relied upon to forecast the water future, and that a new paradigm for water management is needed. The page includes a link to learn more about WaterCAP at www.watercap.eu and a link to "Rediqr beskrivelse". At the bottom, there are logos for the European Union, The European Regional Development Fund, and The Interreg IVB North Sea Region Programme.
